

About AMUG

Founded in 1984, the Atlanta Macintosh Users Group is a not-for-profit Georgia corporation organized and operated exclusively for the purpose of providing education and assistance to its members in the use of the Apple Macintosh computer and software.

AMUG consists of Macintosh enthusiasts from a variety of backgrounds: artists, technicians, programmers, designers, consultants, publishers, accountants—users of a variety of Macintosh types and software! This diverse gathering provides a unique resource for Macintosh information, creativity and education.

AMUG is not affiliated with Apple Computer, Inc. or any other vendor that might demonstrate products or provide special hardware or software purchase offers for its members.

Why an AMUG Membership?

The Benefits You Get with an AMUG Membership

Networking knowledgebase - We know our Macs. Our members have available to them one of the largest collective groups of Macintosh expertise on the planet. No matter the question or problem, members of AMUG rest assured that someone in the group will have an answer.

Purchase recommendations - Looking to buy a new scanner? Or digital camera? Or looking to invest in a high-end printer for your business? Talk to the members of AMUG. Chances are, one of our members has experience with the item you're considering, and can give you first hand feedback on how that device may work for you. Never experience buyer's remorse again. Simply ask a member of AMUG, they'll give you the 411. We'll tell you the best vendors in town (and online) to get the things you need. You get to put our experience to work for you!

General meetings - AMUG members get access to the leading hardware and software manufacturers at our General Meetings. Get to see the latest and greatest in Macintosh technology up close and personal. Some of our past and future presenters include: Macromedia, Apple Computer, Microsoft, Adobe, Canon, Epson, and HP. See firsthand what these vendors can do for you.

Vendor discounts - Not only do we attract the best and the brightest companies, those companies also offer our members substantial discounts on their purchases. Get that new gizmo you've been eyeing for a lot cheaper than you think.

Educational opportunities - You have that new Macintosh, now what are you going to do with it? AMUG offers a variety of learning and teaching venues to help you get the most out of your Macintosh. From simple one-on-one interaction to full-blown classes, you can get the experience you need at the cost you can afford (usually free).

Free Stuff - Did we mention the free stuff we give away at General Meetings? This past year alone people have won an iPod and thousands of dollars of software. And to win, all you have to do is show up at one of our General Meetings! How easy is that???

Online Community - Our Online Community is one of the most popular Mac-oriented systems in the Southeast. It's where you'll find some of the most knowledgeable Mac enthusiasts participating in online discussions of all things Macintosh and otherwise. There are over two dozen public conferences on topics like desktop publishing, programming, employment, buy/sell, networking, Internet, and general support.

Monthly Newsletter - each month, our members receive the Maclanta newsletter filled with timely news, product reviews, and articles of general interest to all Macintosh owners and users, all written in a stylish and entertaining manner.
